About us.

ROBA Music Publishing is a leading music publisher. We are specialists in worldwide music rights management with a focus on film music.

We Love Film and Music!

Only when film and music work perfectly together is great emotion created. For film production companies we offer a unique service that is based on three steps that work perfectly together:

1. For the film production company we establish their own music publishing company. They then become owner of the score composed for the film and are entitled to the income the score earns collection societies.
2. In close relation to the film producer and film director, our music supervisors develop music concepts, offer music clearing with third parties, and make sure that music budgets are met.
3. Using our own distribution company, we can create compelling soundtracks and distribute them worldwide to film music fans.

Long story short: We are the best choice when it comes to film music.

Music Rights Management

- Set up of music publishing companies
- Worldwide royalty collection
- Film composer contracts
- Refinancing
- Income tracking & film music monitoring

Many well-known film production companies trust us with the set-up of their own music publishing companies. Using this entity film, production companies become the owners of their own score music and generate income from music collection societies every time their film is broadcasted. With our worldwide set-up we can register, monitor and collect these monies.
